The road from Bangkok to Hua Hin holds many delights for the adventurous and the inquisitive. Below are a few highlights worth visiting for a quick – or leisurely – stopover.

AMPHAWA FLOATING MARKET

Seafood lovers rejoice! Locals flock to this floating market for BBQ seafood, freshly grilled and served directly from restaurant boats that float up to the water's edge. If seafood isn't your thing, there's a variety of Thai eats to try along with Thai sweets. Take a longtail boat tour of the canals by day, or cruise the Mae Klong River by night in search of fireflies. The area also boasts a unique temple (Wat Bang Kung) wrapped entirely within a banyan tree. The market is located 85 km from Bangkok and 121 km from Hua Hin.

Opening hours:

Friday – Sunday, 2 pm – 8 pm

KING RAMA II MEMORIAL PARK

Step back in time and learn about the lives of Thai people during King Rama II's reign in the early 1800s. Built to honour Rama II and his contributions to Thai arts and culture, the park showcases a museum and traditional Thai house, an open theatre and botanical garden plant species referenced in Thai literature. There's also a shop offering local products and young saplings of the botanical garden plants to grow at home. The park is located 80 km by car from Bangkok and 122km from Hua Hin. Admission fees are 20 baht for adults and 5 baht for children.

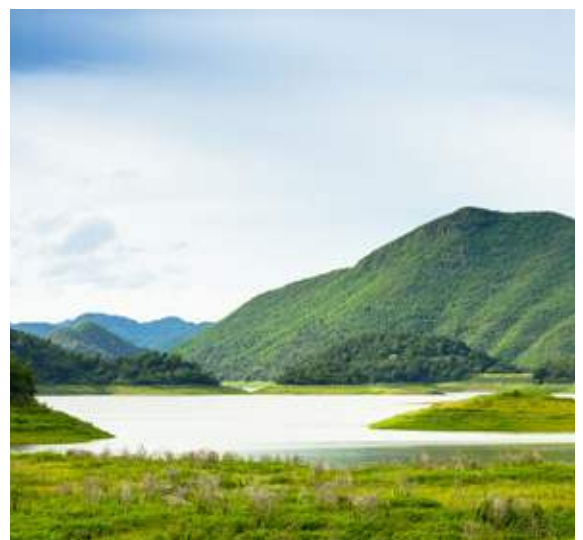

Opening hours:

Monday – Friday, 8:30 am – 5 pm

Saturday – Sunday, 8:30 am – 5:30 pm

KAENG KRACHAN NATIONAL PARK

Waterfalls, one of Thailand's premier bird- and butterfly-watching sites, abundant wildlife and a royal residence with a view are a small sampling of Kaeng Krachan's treasure trove. Thailand's largest national park has endless possibilities for exploring within close proximity to Hua Hin.
